

Men of District No. 1 Physically Alright No "Cold Feet"

Exemption Board Pushing Work of Examination and Are Getting Very Gratifying Results

WILL REALIZE QUOTA FROM FIRST CALL

The second day of the draft examinations was a repetition of yesterday's experiences. The same crowd of determined looking young Americans thronged the court house and waited patiently in line for their turn to go before the examining physicians. Everybody was jolly and joked and laughed with his neighbor over their chances of getting through and going after the Kaiser.

There was not a single case of blues noticeable and the registrants reminded one very much of a breacher crowd awaiting the start of a baseball game.

The same corps of doctors were on the job and by the noon recess had passed upon 67 men. Of this number 22 failed to pass the physical test, while some 25 asked for exemption. The principal reason for exemption was on account of being married, while five claimed to be supporting their parents and three dependent mothers. Only one resident alien asked exemption.

Two fellows who were turned down because they were four pounds under weight were highly indignant and made every effort to have the defect waived, but had to go away disappointed.

The third or final day of the examinations for the first call will be held tomorrow, those holding the final 157 numbers in this call being required to present themselves.

The results of today's examinations are about the same as yesterday's and with this percentage working out in tomorrow's examinations will result in District No. 1 filling its quota out of the first call, because a great many of the exemption claims filed will undoubtedly be rejected by the board. According to this morning's DuBols Courier the exemption board of District No. 2 fears they will be unable to secure 50 soldiers out of the first call and under the examinations held last week. The Courier also predicted that one thousand more names would no doubt have to be called before the first quota was filled.

District No. 3, with headquarters at Oola, rejected 48 out of 330 examined up to 11 o'clock today, their examinations having started on Monday.

Of this number 177 claimed exemption for various reasons, leaving accepted and enrolled soldiers. From present indications the Clearfield district will lead the procession or Clearfield county, which is a reason for just pride.

Tacks Help Potential Soldiers Step Lively

Carelessness in Throwing Away Tacks Results Disastrously

There were a great many funny things connected with the serious proposition of examining and listing Uncle Sam's national army at the court house yesterday, and being a typical American crowd, all hands present instantly saw and fully appreciated every mirth provoking situation.

When the tables were being fixed up for the use of the board covers of blotting pads were tacked on the top. The fellow who did this work—no one will plead guilty—had more tacks than he knew what to do with, and for want of a better place scattered them about over the floor of the grand jury room. When Chief McHenry, who was acting as Major Domo for the board, marched a husky 225 pound Blue Ball citizen into the room clad in "the altogether" and the doctors started him jumping about the room on one foot an explosion occurred which almost shattered the glass in the windows. On his second jump the prospective list squarely on one of those tacks, and then oh! my. Well the censor blue penciled what he said. He sat right down on the floor and Sheriff McCloskey removed the offending tack with a clawhammer and the huskie was ordered to get up and go at it again which he did under protest.

During the morning session two other victims received tire punctures and a mutiny was only averted when the board promised to have a searching investigation made for all offending tacks during the noon recess.

A Morris township man who was on yesterday's list took board a cargo of "dutch courage" before presenting himself and when he arrived at the court house insisted on being examined at once regardless of previous order or precedence. The clerk remonstrated with him several times, but finally being unable to put up with the fellow's bawling in, turned him over to Chief McHenry who deposited him safely in the "city hotel" where he remained quietly until his number was reached when he was liberated very much subdued.

Mathew Davis, the Gearhartville slacker, was taken to Osceola by Deputy Sheriff Chaplin yesterday morning and turned over to the exemption board for District No. 3. He was immediately examined and found to be alright physically and was then sent home with orders to report when called. He was given the number of the first registrant from the district who failed to pass the physical examination.

THEATRE PARTY

Jane Wallace entertained the following little girls at a theatre party yesterday afternoon: Betty Krebs, Juliette Wallace, Catherine Yvaney, Betty Murray, Margaret Shapiro, Lenore piper, Mildred Whiteman and Nathalia Orcutt. After the theatre the girls went to Jane's home on Locust street and had a jolly good time playing games after which delicious refreshments were served.

"Spirit of 1917" Finds Its Way Into Sing Sing

Two companies of soldiers have been formed among the prisoners of Sing Sing, the famous prison of New York state. They drill every afternoon as shown in the photograph here, under the command of George Hodson, a life timer who has no hope of ever leaving prison. Some of the men will shortly finish their terms and all have said they will join the army if they can do so.

DISTRICT NO. 3 REGISTRANTS ARE HUSKY

Excellent Percentage Being Made by Men Being Examined for National Army at Osceola

105 POTENTIAL SOLDIERS

District No. 3 must certainly contain a husky bunch of citizens, judging by the returns from the examination board, which has been engaged in the examination of registrants since Monday.

We were informed just before dinner by A. H. Rumberger, of Houtzdale, who is secretary of the board that up to 11:30 today they had examined 200 men and of this number but 48 had failed to pass the physical requirements. Of this number 177 claimed exemption on various grounds while the remaining 105 were ready for service and their names will be placed on the roll.

The examining board is pushing the work of examinations of those drafted for the new army right along. One hundred and forty-eight were before the board on Monday and 150 on Tuesday. Many are claiming exemption. A notable exception was a young man from Ramey who has tried five times to enlist and who failed to pass the examination and begged the physician to tell him what he could do to enable him to pass. Among those before the board on Tuesday was Mathew Davis of Gearhartville who had not registered and was brought in by a Deputy Sheriff. He did not pass the examination. We are informed there is another slacker in Rush township, Center county, who the authorities are looking for.

ENGINEERS MARCH IN LONDON

London, Aug. 15.—Enthusiastic throngs of people cheered the American engineers who marched through the streets of London today. Ambassador Page reviewed the Sammies as they passed the embassy. As the soldiers approached Buckingham Palace, King George and Queen Mary stood in the entrance. King George saluted the soldiers and the Stars and Stripes.

HOME FROM FT. NIAGARA

B. E. Shirey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed L. Shirey and one of the Clearfield boys fortunate enough to win a second lieutenant's commission at the Fort Niagara officers reserve training camp, arrived home on the 8 o'clock B. & P. train. He is the first of the boys to arrive and was warmly greeted by his host of friends. He is looking and feeling fine and says something has been said with him so far. He has orders to report for further schooling at the training camp at Annapolis, Md., Maryland, and will go there August 24th.

SMOKE TALK

Thanks! Tobacco for the boys in Europe is going to be bought by a few Clearfielders. Tomorrow we will acknowledge receipt of all funds received. Now just a word to Clearfielders. Most of the money received so far is from out of town. We are not after big amounts and what is more we are just a little particular who it comes from. This money should come from the smokers. You fellows who want a smoke the first thing in the morning. Here's hoping you think of the fellows in France tomorrow morning when you light up that first smoke.

School for Soldiers Lesson No. 3

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and direction. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States army to which this course is merely introductory.

LESSON 3

NINE SOLDIERLY QUALITIES
The three basic qualities, Loyalty, Obedience and Physical Fitness were treated in the preceding lesson. There is another group of three soldierly qualities that are especially needed during the periods of training, marching and waiting between combats. They are:

Intelligence,
Cleanliness,
Cheerfulness.

Although these qualities are associated chiefly with camp life, they are, of course, scarcely less helpful in all other phases of military service.

Intelligence

Intelligence does not necessarily mean education, but rather quick observation and willingness to learn. There is plenty of need for intelligence in modern warfare. The National army will be forced to absorb within a few months a training which would ordinarily extend over a period of two or three years. Those who intend to fit themselves for promotion should study thoroughly the manual and the drill regulations which affect their duties. In time they should learn something about map-making and map-reading, the construction of field entrenchments, training and care of horses, signalling, the handling of complex pieces of machinery, and many other subjects.

Any practical knowledge that you may now possess will surely be useful and helpful to you in the army. Captain Hay Booth, of the English army, points out that in the first British forces of the present war the previous trade or training of every soldier was sooner or later utilized.

Cleanliness

Cleanliness is important everywhere but most of all in the army where large bodies of men are brought together. In its true sense, it includes not only keeping your body clean, but also your mind and your actions. Fortunately, it is a virtue in which

HOOVER HEADS COMMISSION

Washington, Aug. 15.—Creation of a food administration grain corporation with a capital of $50,000,000 to conduct government wheat purchases and sale was officially announced today. To carry on the gigantic work the President appointed three committees—the wheat purchasing division, the price fixing committee, and the millers' committee. The great machinery of wheat control is now practically completed.

President Wilson nominated the Wheat Price Fixing Committee. It is the first step toward governmental control of the 1917 wheat crop. The Committee includes Howard Garth, Dean of Williams College, chairman; Wm. M. Sloan, secretary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; E. G. Funk, President of the National Crop Association; Ed. F. Ladd, President of the North Dakota Agricultural College; J. W. Shorthill, J. W. Sullivan, American Federation of Labor; Thomas N. Vail, President American Telegraph and Telephone Company.

The wheat purchasing division of the food administration is headed by Chairman Herbert Hoover. Other officers are Jules Barnes, Duluth, president, G. W. McGarragh, of New York City, treasurer, Edward Chambers, Chicago, Transportation director, J. W. Shorthill, secretary.

Canadians Again Get Into Lens Fighting

British Repulse Counter Assault East of Cite St. Emille

By Wm. Phillip Simms
With The British Armies In The Field, Aug. 15.—The Canadians today stormed positions dominating the remainder of the coal city, Lens, which was still held by the Germans. The Canadians assaulted and also captured neighboring positions. The British and French forces resumed their attack on the German lines in Flanders. The British advanced northwest of Bixschote while the French swept forward toward Dixmude. East of Cite St. Emille a strong German counter offensive was thrown against the British but was completely repulsed.

Several hundred prisoners have been taken by the Canadians during the early fighting and the fighting is still in progress. At that time positions over a thousand yards front to a depth of more than a mile had been captured. If the Germans still continue to hold the famous coal city of Lens their pride will cost them dearly in lives and blood.

NONE OF ALLIES WILL ACCEDE TO PROPOSAL OF PEACE BY POPE

U. S. Announces Intention of Being Firm in Forcing War to a Finish Against The Teuton Nations

CONSIDERATE OF INTENT OF BENEDETTO

By Carl D. Groat

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 15.—The great war must go on until Germany is prepared to make reparation, restoration and guarantee. The United States stands with the allies in their determination to fight until the object is attained. The Pope's peace appeal has made no change in the war aims of this nation the State Department announced today.

America's aims for the most part are coincidental with those of the allies it was said. This summary was learned in governmental and allied quarters today while Secretary Lansing awaited the formal note said to be on its way from the Vatican. The State Department reflected an unmistakable determination to refuse the Pope's move at this time. England is expected to speak for the allies. Admission is made by high government officials "that the Pope's peace note must be received with deference and careful consideration. It is sincere and is prompted by purely Christian motives." America will await a move of the German kerals to force the issue in Germany and overthrow those who brought about the war.

The allied nations—the United States government included—swung strongly to the view that Pope Benedict's peace offer cannot be accepted in its present form. Cables received early at the State Department indicated strong opposition on the part of England, France and Italy. Some officials are of the view that the offer is pro-Austrian. The President has not yet definitely determined as to the full scope of his reply. His decision awaits study of the Pope's formal note.

Bulletin

The Pope's appeal has not changed America's war aims which are substantially those of France and England it was officially announced today. This statement was taken as an indication that the United States and the allies will stand firmly together and not accept the Pope's peace offer. It was pointed out that the general trend of the offer insofar as the out-line receive the State Department is concerned are proposals to which United States could not accede.

IN JAIL ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Constable Thomas Barr, of Winburne, was in town this morning having brought a foreigner named Mike Tote to jail on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. Tote went home drunk and made an assault upon his wife slashing her on the hip with a butcher knife and causing an injury which prevented the poor woman from attending the hearing at the Squire's office.

The case is especially aggravated because of the fact that the poor woman was about to become a mother and the brute of a husband narrowly escaped getting his just deserts at the hands of the outraged neighbors when the officer of the law took him in charge.

W. T. Thorpe of Crampian was in town on business today.

PORK IS KING

Kansas City, Aug. 15.—Four pigs loads of hogs sold at $18.00 per hundred pounds on the stock market today. A gain of 40 and 50c over yesterday's price. Sheep sold at $16.50 per hundred pounds.

CAMPANA LOSS LARGER

Washington, Aug. 15.—Five American gunners instead of four and the captain of the Campana were lost when the vessel was sunk by a U-boat. The Navy Department learned officially today.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUGUST 15, 1917.

One of our far away friends has taken us severely to task on several matters concerning the make up of our paper. Fortunately, he does not wish the criticism published and we do indeed appreciate his wishes in this matter for we realize that he hits the nail on the head. We might suggest that the gentleman who attempted to give our "dark past" a couple of weeks ago get in touch with our far away friend and engage him to write up The Progress. Our far away friend, while a friend, is capable of doing it and in addition, he has the goods on us.

Clearfield county coal operators do not deny that they have made large profits during the past year. They do not ask for a continuance of these profits but they do ask, and have a right to demand, better treatment at the hands of government officials, than they are getting. Baker and Daniels have approached the coal situation with the preconceived notion that the high prices of coal was of the operator's making and did not consider that they were caused by the competitive bidding of the buyers. There is absolutely no attempt to curtail the output, in fact every operator did his best to increase his tonnage, but owing to the scarcity of labor not much of an increase could be made. There are hundreds of operators now who want to install more machinery and do greater development work in their mines but cannot see their way clear to do it under present conditions. According to best information there is a likelihood of the government so fixing the price of coal that it will not allow for any improvements but simply for the actual cost of mining, plus royalty and a reasonable profit. Reasonable profit will be taken to mean actual dividends with no provision for improvement and development. Operators must have a profit that will allow for the purchase of machinery that will increase efficiency and output and permit development of their coal holdings.

DOING FINE

It is gratifying to note that our District is furnishing a high percentage of eligibles for the new army so as the physical standards are concerned and it is hard to know that so few, compared with other sections of the country, are claiming exemptions. A great number of the men being examined show a desire to be found physically fit for service to Uncle Sam. In only one or two cases was there any attempt on the part of the registrant to tell the examining physicians that he had something wrong with him or to make it appear as though he was not fit for the army.

ANOTHER RUSSIA

Perhaps there may be some gain for the Allies in China's entrance into the war but many are not inclined to take this view of the latest item of war news. China today has the least stable government of any nation in the world, not excepting Russia and Mexico. It has been a monarchy and a republic in turn so many times that it takes a close student of current events to tell every morning whether the people of the celestial empire are bowing down before the emperor or helping elect a new president. A very few people govern China and we are reliably told by magazine articles that there are millions of people in inner China who do not even know whether they have king, emperor or president, and the most lamentable thing about it is that they do not care. As a result these few have declared war on Germany and granting that their word is law and that they can raise an army of a million men to fight the Teutonic powers there is the omnipotent possibility, yes probability, that there will be one revolution after another which will bring China one step nearer to a modern nation but unfit her for any active part in whipping the common enemy. The unfortunate part of this is that the far East will be more and more of a factor in final settlements which will be a dangerous proposition and the United States will have to guard against any alliances which will give the far East a foothold in the inner circle of great nations. We cannot expect much material assistance from a nation such as China.

President The Picture of Health Under Stress of War Business

Exercises Every Morning and Reads Detective Stories For Mental Relaxation

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 15.—If you have pictured President Wilson, careworn, haggard and breaking under the strain of his tremendous war problems, change the portrait. It's way wrong. On one of his unannounced strolls from the White House to Secretary Baker's office in the State War & Navy building he gave press men an opportunity for a good close-up of Woodrow Wilson in war mood.

Swinging out from Baker's room and down the tiled corridor, the President had more the manner of a man who had just concluded a pleasant chat with an old crony about nothing in particular, than of a nation's leader who had just discussed a vital world problem whose solution he must find. Clad in snowy linen coat and trousers, a flat-topped, broad-brimmed straw hat set squarely on his head, the President moved at a brisk pace toward the stairway. There was spring in his step. His smile was genial, his cheeks ruddy with the glow of health.

Realizing the vital importance of keeping himself fit, the President is exceedingly careful to play with his work.

Early every morning, long before most Washingtonians are so much as turning over for their pre-getting-up naps, the President is out in his knickerbockers and off around the golf course. Mrs. Wilson usually accompanies him. A couple of hours later they may be seen rolling into the White House grounds in one of the big cars with the golden spread eagles in a circle on the door panels. Golf, walking and other mild forms of exercise take care of the President's physical health. For mental diversion and rest he turns from the problems of war to intricate, complex and quite thrilling detective stories.

Most of his newspaper reading is done for him by Secretary Tamm. Thousands of papers from all over the country are carefully gone over for news of interest to the White House, and whatever is deemed sufficiently important to bring to the President's personal attention he gets in the form of pasted up clippings at the proper time.

He has cares and worries and burdens galore, has the President, but he isn't breaking down under them.

HARDEN'S PAPER REAPPEARS

Amsterdam, Aug. 15.—Maximilian Harden's suppressed Die Zukunft reappeared today advocating the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France and Trieste to Italy if durable peace is to be achieved.

Officials believe that Harden's article might have been inspired. There is no formal agreement between the Allies with regard to accepting a peace proposal. It was informally understood when Arthur Balfour and Rene Viviani of the British and French commissions were here that they would not accept any peace proposal that failed to include the objective of the Allies.

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have hollow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside bathing before breakfast.

NEW JOB FOR DRUG CLERK

An Indiana drug clerk had an amusing experience recently. A young lady, evidently embarrassed, came in to the store and asked for a prescription to be filled. The accommodating clerk promptly put up the medicine and "Anything else, please?" he asked the young lady. "Yes," she replied, "give me a sponge bath." After transposing the words, the clerk complied with the request.

Frank Baker, of home run fame, is still a dangerous gent with the war club. His timely hitting has lifted the Yanks over many rough spots this season.

This Speaker's chance to win the batting championship this season is pretty lean, but the Cleveland star is putting up a great game at that.

Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus off with fingers.

No humbug! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet without one bit of pain.

Agencies in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle of freezone on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

WHY WORRY ABOUT THE DRAFT?

From an Atlanta boy who has been on the firing line in France, and knows what he is talking about.

"You have two alternatives, either you are drafted or you are not. If not, you have nothing to worry about. If you are drafted, you have two alternatives either you are in camp or you are at the front. If you are in camp you have nothing to worry about. If you are at the front, you have two alternatives either you are held in reserve or you are sent to the firing line. If you are held in reserve you have nothing to worry about. If you are sent to the firing line, you have two alternatives; either you fight or you don't. If you don't fight you have nothing to worry about. If you do get hurt you have two alternatives either you get slightly hurt or badly hurt. If you are slightly hurt, you have nothing to worry about. If you get badly hurt you have two alternatives; either you recover or you do not. If you recover, you have nothing to worry about. If you don't recover then you are dead and can't worry, so what is the use of worrying about the draft?"

ALL CATHOLICS ASKED TO ABSTAIN FROM LIQUOR

Catholic bishops throughout the country were called upon by the closing session of the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, at Scranton, to urge all to abstain from intoxicants during the period of the war. A resolution embodying this call, and also urging all Catholics engaged in the manufacturing and sale of intoxicants to withdraw from the business, was recommended by the president and adopted by unanimous voice. Total abstinence was also urged upon all Catholics going into the army.

The fine hitting of Larry Lajoie in the International league has attracted the attention of several major league moguls. Perhaps the former Cleveland star and present Toronto manager is getting ready to return to the big show next season.

"KERCHOO" PARDON ME MY HAY-FEVER'S ARRIVED

(By United Press)

New York, Aug. 15.—Twenty-five thousand New Yorkers suffering from hay-fever today began piling up a grand total of 76,650,000 sneezes the sneezers sneeze during hay-fever time according to figures compiled by the United States Hay Fever association.

More than a million in the United States are afflicted with hay-fever, according to the Association's figures. The more fortunate sufferers are seeking relief in the White Mountains and at various resorts throughout the country where the ragweed, said to be back of every sneeze, does not mature or has been stamped out. Asheville, N. C. has become quite popular among the wealthy sufferers from hay-fever, since the appointment last summer of a special officer whose sole duty is to combat and eradicate hay fever weeds.

SEA GULLS AS AID AGAINST SUBMARINES

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 15.—He was an earnest inventor and the August heat hadn't gone to his head, either, he said.

He wanted to help this country and suggest this means of killing the U-boat.

"Prevent all merchant ships from strewing garbage on the ocean. Then the sea-gulls wouldn't trail the ships. Then take some tame U. S. submarines, and throw food out from them to the gulls. Very simple. Gulls learn to associate periscope of submarine with food. Follow submarine, periscope, while gulls circle about the food. Destroyer notes gulls, knows they mean periscope. Kills U-boat." (P. S.—The U-boats still gather their toll.)

The first woman persuaded by our government for heroic deeds was Margaret Corbin, who lost an arm and suffered other serious wounds while operating a gun at the battle of Fort Mifflin, November 16, 1776.

Carpenter Rescues Painter After Thrilling Experience At Surveyor

Comrade James Sutton Dances Hornpipe When Blacksnake Encircles His Arm

Comrade James Sutton, who is engaged in painting a house which is being erected by Dr. H. H. Lewis at Surveyor had an experience Saturday last which caused his hair to stand on end for a few minutes. The house is being erected along the bank of Surveyor run, the back porch extending up against the hill, the territory to the rear being barren mountain land. The carpenters and painters are at work on the house and on account of the warm weather the doors were left open and Saturday a four foot blacksnake made its way into the house and after a tour of investigation decided to curl up for a nap on Sutton's coat which had dropped from a nail onto the floor in the kitchen. When dinner time arrived Jim quit work and going out to the kitchen reached down to pick up the coat. The corner where the coat was lying being shaded by the kitchen door he failed to notice the unwelcome trespasser but when he grabbed the coat he immediately became aware that something was wrong. His attempt to pick up the coat awakened the snake from his snooze and as he must have been a crabbed old fellow and objected to being awakened by a shakelike unwound a foot or two of his coils and quickly snapped himself around the Comrade's forearm. Instantly he sensed the difficulty and let out a yell which brought Ash Thorr on the double quick to the rescue. One bound and Comrade Sutton was out on the porch attempting to shake the snake from his arm but the more he shook the tighter the snake held on and Thorr was forced to chase the Comrade and his bracelet for more than fifty yards before he was able to separate the two which he finally accomplished by hacking the head off the reptile with a saw which he carried. Following the separation the Comrade lost all appetite for dinner and it took him the full dinner hour to recover his wonted nerve. In telling of the happening Jim said he had many thrilling experiences in Civil war times but never a hair-raiser to equal this. He is going to have a belt made of the snake's hide.

Scene in the House of Representatives When First Woman to Make a Speech There Attacked the Copper Trust

Miss Jeanette Rankin, member of the House of Representatives from Montana, made the first speech delivered by a woman before the House. She attacked the copper trust for mining conditions in Montana and Arizona. She blamed recent labor troubles of the mining regions on the treatment of the men by the officials of the large copper mining companies.

Philipsburg Gets Big Templar Conclave

Commanderies of Six Cities Will Take Part In Fine Parade

A Conclave of Knights Templar in Central Pennsylvania of unusual importance will be held in Philipsburg on August 30th, same comprising the commanderies of Johnstown, Altoona, Huntingdon, Lewistown, Bellefonte and Philipsburg. This will be the 8th Annual Field Day of this division. Last year it was held at Huntingdon. A place is selected annually by the several commanderies, and the committee gave it to Moshannon commandery this year.

The day will be given mostly to the parade, review and inspection of the several commanderies by the grand commander, E. Sir Herbert R. Laird, of Williamsport, who will be accompanied by members of his commandery, together with the division commander, E. Sir Charles T. Derick, of Bellwood.

There will be six commanderies enter into this conclave. Each one will be accompanied by a band so that the event means much to a town fortunate enough to be selected in which it is to be held.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

"PUBLIC OPINION"

Special at the Globe Tomorrow
 In this melodrama of social conflict Miss Sweet appears as a young woman nurse wrongfully accused of murder. The hand of justice, unseen in the every day world but visible in film, stalks through the drama to the climax, finally pointing the way for the freedom of the accused and the conviction of the guilty.

In characters of this sort Miss Sweet already occupies in the memories of motion picture enthusiasts a unique place. Her remarkable performance in the dual personality in "The Secret Sin" and again in the Lasky-Belasco production "The Case of Becky" mark her as one especially suited for the portrayal of the occult.

MASTER PRODUCTION BY D. W. GRIFFITH

A million dollar cast. 11,000 people, 3,000 horses, 40 dancing girls, will be seen at the Tent theatre on Wednesday, August 22.

"Her Condoned Sin" the big Griffith screen production with an all star cast will be shown here at the Tent theatre. It is the biggest all star cast spectacular moving picture ever shown in this city. It is said there are 11,000 people in the various scenes and it looks as if no mistake had been made in the counting. Some of the stage settings are most massive and beautiful. The photography is fine and the costumes elaborate and expensive. The scenes showing the battle and attempt to break down the great wall of the city is one of the most thrilling ever produced on the screen. Many who have seen "Intolerance" claim this is even a greater picture. Many of the scenes in "Her Condoned Sin" were eliminated by the state board but the manager of the Tent theatre says the scenes have been passed by the board and can now be shown.

A Pittsburgh rumor has the Pirates changing ownership before the opening of the 1918 season.

Among the former big leaguers who are batting .300 or better in the Pacific Coast league are Rath, Miller, Pick, Ryan, Kenworthy and Fournier.

"Gravy" Cravath of the Phillies has a rival for the home run championship. Hornsby of the Cardinals is giving the Phil slugger a chase for the honors.

Playing with a tail-end team doesn't bother Max Carey in base stealing. The Pirate garbier is the class among National league pilferers.

With the exception of pitchers, neither the White Sox nor the Red Sox has a regular .300 hitter on its roster. Pitchers Ruth and Bader of the Red Sox and Russell of the White Sox are in the .300 set.

Give the Cincinnati Reds a little added pitching strength and they would just about clean up the National league outfields. The Reds certainly have a nifty set of hitters and base stealers.

The St. Louis Browns appear to be the one team in baseball made to order for Clark Griffith's Senators. It would seem that no matter how well the Jones boys perform against the Senators the latter come through a winner.

In one respect the Dodgers and the Braves are very much on the twin order. Each outfit won a pennant and then turned around and beat it for the also division.

Baseball critics proclaim Ty Cobb to be as fast on the paths today as he was ten years ago. As the present is the 13th for Ty with the Tigers, Old Man Jinx doesn't seem to be putting in on the Georgian's wonderful work.

Shortstop Fabrique, who had a trial with Brooklyn earlier in the season, has become one of the leading lights of the American association. He is pasturing with the Toledo team.

"Death Valley" Jim Scott, the White Sox pitcher, is anxious to join the Reserve Officers' corps at Presidio, Cal. If declared eligible he will report Aug. 27.

Pitcher Al Demaree got away to a good start on his return to the Giants. The cartoonist's greatest work as a twirler was staged while he was a member of the McGraws a few years ago.

Dr. F. D. Leipold, dentist will be absent from his office until about August 23rd.

LETTERS MAY BE WRITTEN FOR SOLDIERS

Business Detail of Man Will Be Provided to Take Care of of Their Correspondence

FORM POSTCARDS TO BE USED

By George Martin
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 Washington, Aug. 15.—Every soldier in France will have a secretary to write letters to his folks if he is badly wounded or too busy writing the books to do it himself.
 Adjutant General McCain has arranged the same secretariat system for the first 607,000 draft soldiers in cantonment camps in this country this fall. And for the million men, likewise.

"Our plan to enable friends and relatives of American soldiers to get prompt information as to their welfare," said General McCain today, "will require, for every million men, about 1,200 officers, enlisted men and field clerks."

World headquarters for this organization, which is already at work, will be in the State, War and Navy Building in Washington. It is known officially as "The Statistical Division."

In addition to writing letters and postcards, the duties of members of the division will include:

Gathering information concerning individuals at general, divisional, regimental and company headquarters, field and base hospitals, ports of embarkation and camps in this country where troops are mobilized and trained.

Handling inquiries concerning prisoners of war; both German prisoners in America and American prisoners in Germany.

A big training school for these Statistical secretaries has been established at the War department and is in operation now. Officers of the division are being selected from the officers training camps and will be sent to France and to places in this country as soon as trained.

"Every company of American soldiers, everywhere," said General McCain, "will be accompanied by one or more of these men regularly stationed with it and part of whose job will be to know every man in the company."

"This man will report to the regimental Statistical Division which will be especially charged with the preparation and forwarding of casualty lists and data on to wounded and seriously ill."

"Information will likewise be reported as to all civilians accredited with the army."

"The organization will finally be completed by having a regimental section with each regiment. This will be in charge of the regular adjutant, assisted by the chaplain."

General McCain wishes all Soldiers, their relatives and friends to make full use of this secretariat division. Word can be gotten home to him more expeditiously by the Statistical, through one of the division's farm postcards than by any other means except expensive cable.

The postcards are official and do not have to be delayed for censoring. If unable to write himself, his statistical field secretary will gladly do it for the Sammy.

NUMBER 46

Men of District No. 1 Physically Alright No "Cold Feet"

Exemption Board Pushing Work of Examination and Are Getting Very Gratifying Results

WILL REALIZE QUOTA FROM FIRST CALL

The second day of the draft examinations was a repetition of yesterday's experiences. The same crowd of determined looking young Americans thronged the court house and waited patiently in line for their turn to go before the examining physicians. Everybody was jolly and joked and laughed with his neighbor over their chances of getting through and going after the Kaiser.

There was not a single case of blues noticeable and the registrants reminded one very much of a breacher crowd awaiting the start of a baseball game.

The same corps of doctors were on the job and by the noon recess had passed upon 67 men. Of this number 22 failed to pass the physical test, while some 25 asked for exemption. The principal reason for exemption was on account of being married, while five claimed to be supporting their parents and three dependent mothers. Only one resident alien asked exemption.

Two fellows who were turned down because they were four pounds under weight were highly indignant and made every effort to have the defect waived, but had to go away disappointed.

The third or final day of the examinations for the first call will be held tomorrow, those holding the final 157 numbers in this call being required to present themselves.

The results of today's examinations are about the same as yesterday's and with this percentage working out in tomorrow's examinations will result in District No. 1 filling its quota out of the first call, because a great many of the exemption claims filed will undoubtedly be rejected by the board. According to this morning's DuBois Courier the exemption board of District No. 2 fears they will be unable to secure 50 soldiers out of the first call and under the examinations held last week. The Courier also predicted that one thousand more names would no doubt have to be called before the first quota was filled.

District No. 3, with headquarters at Osceola, rejected 48 out of 330 examined up to 11 o'clock today, their examinations having started on Monday.

Of this number 177 claimed exemption for various reasons, leaving accepted and enrolled soldiers. From present indications the Clearfield district will lead the procession for Clearfield county, which is a reason for just pride.

Tacks Help Potential Soldiers Step Lively

Carelessness in Throwing Away Tacks Results Disastrously

There were a great many funny things connected with the serious proposition of examining and listing Uncle Sam's national army at the court house yesterday, and being a typical American crowd, all hands present instantly saw and fully appreciated every mirth provoking situation.

When the tables were being fixed up for the use of the board covers of blotting pads were tacked on the top. The fellow who did this work—no one will plead guilty—had more tacks than he knew what to do with and, for want of a better place scattered them about over the floor of the grand jury room. When Chief McHenry, who was acting as Major Domo for the board, marched a husky 225 pound Blue Ball citizen into the room clad in "the altogether" and the doctors started him jumping about the room on one foot an explosion occurred which almost shattered the glass in the windows. On his second jump the prospective lit squarely on one of those tacks, and then oh! my. Well, the censor blue penciled what he said. He sat right down on the floor and Sheriff McCloskey removed the offending tack with a clawhammer and the huskie was ordered to get up and go at it again which he did under protest.

During the morning session two other victims received tire punctures and a mutiny was only averted when the board promised to have a searching investigation made for all offending tacks during the noon recess.

A Morris township man who was on yesterday's list took board a cargo of "dutch courage" before presenting himself and when he arrived at the court house insisted on being examined at once regardless of previous order or precedence. The clerk remonstrated with him several times, but finally being unable to put up with the fellow's bawling in, turned him over to Chief McHenry who deposited him safely in the "city hotel" where he remained quietly until his number was reached when he was liberated very much subdued.

Mathew Davis, the Gearhartville slacker, was taken to Osceola by Deputy Sheriff Chaplin yesterday morning and turned over to the exemption board for District No. 3. He was immediately examined and found to be alright physically and was then sent home with orders to report when called. He was given the number of the first registrant from the district who failed to pass the physical examination.

THEATRE PARTY

Jane Wallace entertained the following little girls at a theatre party yesterday afternoon: Betty Krebs, Juliette Wallace, Catherine Yoney, Betty Murray, Margaret Shapiro, Lenore piper, Mildred Whiteman and Nathalia Orcutt. After the theatre the girls went to Jane's home on Locust street and had a jolly good time playing games after which delicious refreshments were served.

"Spirit of 1917" Finds Its Way Into Sing Sing

Two companies of soldiers have been formed among the prisoners of Sing Sing, the famous prison of New York state. They drill every afternoon as shown in the photograph here, under the command of George Hodson, a life timer who has no hope of ever leaving prison. Some of the men will shortly finish their terms and all have said they will join the army if they can do so.

DISTRICT NO. 3 REGISTRANTS ARE HUSKY

Excellent Percentage Being Made by Men Being Examined for National Army at Osceola

105 POTENTIAL SOLDIERS

District No. 3 must certainly contain a husky bunch of citizens, judging by the returns from the exemption board, which has been engaged in the examination of registrants since Monday.

We were informed just before dinner by A. H. Rumberger, of Houtzdale, who is secretary of the board that up to 11:30 today they had examined 320 men and of this number but 48 had failed to pass the physical requirements. Of this number 177 claimed exemption on various grounds while the remaining 105 were ready for service and their names will be placed on the roll.

The examining board is pushing the work of examinations of those drafted for the new army right along. One hundred and forty-eight were before the board on Monday and 150 on Tuesday. Many are claiming exemption. A notable exception was a young man from Ramey who has tried five times to enlist and who failed to pass the examination and begged the physician to tell him what he could do to enable him to pass. Among those before the board on Tuesday was Mathew Davis of Gearhartville who had not registered and was brought in by a Deputy Sheriff. He did not pass the examination. We are informed there is another slacker in Rush township, Center county, who the authorities are looking for.

ENGINEERS MARCH IN LONDON

London, Aug. 15.—Enthusiastic throngs of people cheered the American engineers who marched through the streets of London today. Ambassador Page reviewed the Sammies as they passed the embassy. As the soldiers approached Buckingham Palace, King George and Queen Mary stood in the entrance. King George saluted the soldiers and the Stars and Stripes.

HOME FROM FT. NIAGARA

B. E. Shirey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. L. Shirey and one of the Clearfield boys fortunate enough to win a second lieutenant's commission at the Fort Niagara officers reserve training camp, arrived home on the 8 o'clock B. & P. train. He is the first of the boys to arrive and was warmly greeted by his host of friends. He is looking and feeling fine and says soldiering has agreed with him so far. He has orders to report for further schooling at the training camp at Annapolis Junction, Maryland, and will go there August 29th.

SMOKE TALK

Thanks! Tobacco for the boys in Europe is going to be bought by a few Clearfielders. Tomorrow we will acknowledge receipt of all funds received. Now just a word to Clearfielders. Most of the money received so far is from out of town. We are not after big amounts and what is more we are just a little particular who it comes from. This money should come from the smokers. You fellows who want a smoke the first thing in the morning. Here's hoping you think of the fellows in France tomorrow morning when you light up that first smoke.

School for Soldiers Lesson No. 3

This course of thirty daily lessons is offered to the men selected for service in the National Army as a practical help in getting started in the right way. It is informal in tone and does not attempt to give binding rules and direction. These are contained in the various manuals and regulations of the United States Army to which this course is merely introductory.

NINE SOLDIERLY QUALITIES
The three basic qualities, Loyalty, Obedience and Physical Fitness were treated in the preceding lesson. There is another group of three soldierly qualities that are especially needed during the periods of training, marching and waiting between combats. They are:

Intelligence, Cleanliness, Cheerfulness.
Although these qualities are associated chiefly with camp life, they are, of course, scarcely less helpful in all other phases of military service.

Intelligence

Intelligence does not necessarily mean education, but rather quick observation and willingness to learn. There is plenty of need for intelligence in modern warfare. The National Army will be forced to absorb within a few months a training which would ordinarily extend over a period of two or three years. Those who intend to fit themselves for promotion should study thoroughly the manuals and the drill regulations which affect their duties. In time they should learn something about map-making and map-reading, the construction of field entrenchments, training and care of horses, signalling, the handling of complex pieces of machinery, and many other subjects.

Any practical knowledge that you may now possess will surely be useful and helpful to you in the army. Captain Hay Beith, of the English army, points out that in the first British forces of the present war the previous trade or training of every soldier was sooner or later utilized.

Cleanliness

Cleanliness is important everywhere but most of all in the army where large bodies of men are brought together. In its true sense, it includes not only keeping your body clean, but also your mind and your actions. Fortunately, it is a virtue in which

FIFTY MILLION IS SET APART FOR WHEAT

President Puts Price Fixing Body and Purchasing Body to Work with Huge Fund to Work With

HOOVER HEADS COMMISSION

Washington, Aug. 15.—Creation of a food administration grain corporation with a capital of $50,000,000 to conduct government wheat purchases and sale was officially announced today. To carry on the gigantic work the President appointed three committees—the wheat purchasing division, the price fixing committee, and the millers' committee. The great machinery of wheat control is now practically completed.

President Wilson nominated the Wheat Price Fixing Committee. It is the first step toward governmental control of the 1917 wheat crop. The Committee includes Howard Garth, Dean of Williams College, chairman; Wm. M. Sloan, secretary of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; E. G. Funk, President of the National Crop Association; Ed. F. Ladd, President of the North Dakota Agricultural College; J. W. Shorthill, J. W. Sullivan, American Federation of Labor; Thomas N. Vail, President American Telegraph and Telephone Company.

The wheat purchasing division of the food administration is headed by Chairman Herbert Hoover. Other officers are Jules Barnes, Duluth, president, G. W. McGarragh, of New York City, treasurer, Edward Chambers, Chicago, Transportation director, J. W. Shorthill, secretary.

Canadians Again Get Into Lens Fighting

British Repulse Counter Assault East of Cite St. Emille

By Wm. Phillip Simms
With The British Armies In The Field, Aug. 15.—The Canadians today stormed positions dominating the remainder of the coal city, Lens, which was still held by the Germans. The Canadians assaulted and also captured neighboring positions. The British and French forces resumed their attack on the German lines in Flanders. The British advanced northwest of Bixschote while the French swept forward toward Dixmude. East of Cite St. Emille a strong German counter offensive was thrown against the British but was completely repulsed.

Several hundred prisoners have been taken by the Canadians during the early fighting and the fighting is still in progress. At that time positions over a thousand yards front to a depth of more than a mile had been captured. If the Germans still continue to hold the famous coal city of Lens their pride will cost them dearly in lives and blood.

NONE OF ALLIES WILL ACCEDE TO PROPOSAL OF PEACE BY POPE

U. S. Announces Intention of Being Firm in Forcing War to a Finish Against The Teuton Nations

CONSIDERATE OF INTENT OF BENEDETTO

By Carl D. Groat
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 15.—The great war must go on until Germany is prepared to make reparation, restoration and guarantee. The United States stands with the allies in their determination to fight until the object is attained. The Pope's peace appeal has made no change in the war aims of this nation the State Department announced today.

America's aims for the most part are coincidental with those of the allies it was said. This summary was learned in governmental and allied quarters today while Secretary Lansing awaited the formal note said to be on its way from the Vatican. The State Department reflected an unmistakable determination to refuse the Pope's move at this time. England is expected to speak for the allies. Admission is made by high government officials "that the Pope's peace note must be received with deference and careful consideration. It is sincere and is prompted by purely Christian motives." America will await a move of the German kberals to force the issue in Germany and overthrow those who brought about the war.

The allied nations—the United States government included—swung strongly to the view that Pope Benedict's peace offer cannot be accepted in its present form. Cables received early at the State Department indicated strong opposition on the part of England, France and Italy. Some officials are of the view that the offer is pro-Austrian. The President has not yet definitely determined as to the full scope of his reply. His decision awaits study of the Pope's formal note.

Bulletin

The Pope's appeal has not changed America's war aims which are substantially those of France and England it was officially announced today. This statement was taken as an indication that the United States and the allies will stand firmly together and not accept the Pope's peace offer. It was pointed out that the general trend of the offer insofar as the out-line receive the State Department is concerned are proposals to which United States could not accede.

IN JAIL ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Constable Thomas Barr, of Winburne, was in town this morning having brought a foreigner named Mike Tote to jail on a charge of aggravated assault and battery. Tote went home drunk and made an assault upon his wife slashing her on the hip with a butcher knife and causing an injury which prevented the poor woman from attending the hearing at the Squire's office.

The case is especially aggravated because of the fact that the poor woman was about to become a mother and the brute of a husband narrowly escaped getting his just deserts at the hands of the outraged neighbors when the officer of the law took him in charge.

W. T. Thorpe of Crampian was in town on business today.

PORK IS KING

Kansas City, Aug. 15.—Four eggs loads of hogs sold at $18.00 per hundred pounds on the stock market today. A gain of 40 and 50c over yesterday's price. Sheep sold at $16.50 per hundred pounds.

CAMPANA LOSS LARGER

Washington, Aug. 15.—Five American gunners instead of four and the captain of the Campana were lost when the vessel was sunk by a U-boat. The Navy Department learned officially today.

Dr. L. R. Browne will be absent from his office until August 20. A-11-6t-pd.

One of our far away friends has taken us severely to task on several matters concerning the make up of our paper. Fortunately, he does not wish the criticism published and we do indeed appreciate his wishes in this matter for we realize that he hits the nail on the head. We might suggest that the gentleman who attempted to give our "dark past" a couple of weeks ago get in touch with our far away friend and engage him to write up The Progress. Our far away friend, while a friend, is capable of doing it and in addition, he has the goods on us.

Clearfield county coal operators do not deny that they have made large profits during the past year. They do not ask for a continuance of these profits but they do ask, and have a right to demand, better treatment at the hands of government officials, than they are getting. Baker and Daniels have approached the coal situation with the preconceived notion that the high prices of coal was of the operator's making and did not consider that they were caused by the competitive bidding of the buyers. There is absolutely no attempt to curtail the output, in fact every operator did his best to increase his tonnage, but owing to the scarcity of labor not much of an increase could be made. There are hundreds of operators now who want to install more machinery and do greater development work in their mines but cannot see their way clear to do it under present conditions. According to best information there is a likelihood of the government so fixing the price of coal that it will not allow for any improvements but simply for the actual cost of mining, plus royalty and a reasonable profit. Reasonable profit will be taken to mean actual dividends with no provision for improvement and development. Operators must have a profit that will allow for the purchase of machinery that will increase efficiency and output and permit development of their coal holdings.

DOING FINE

It is gratifying to note that our District is furnishing a high percentage of eligibles for the new army so as the physical standards are concerned and it is hard to know that so few, compared with other sections of the country, are claiming exemptions. A great number of the men being examined show a desire to be found physically fit for service to Uncle Sam. In only one or two cases was there any attempt on the part of the registrant to tell the examining physicians that he had something wrong with him or to make it appear as though he was not fit for the army.

ANOTHER RUSSIA

Perhaps there may be some gain for the Allies in China's entrance into the war but many are not inclined to take this view of the latest item of war news. China today has the least stable government of any nation in the world, not excepting Russia and Mexico. It has been a monarchy and a republic in turn so many times that it takes a close student of current events to tell every morning whether the people of the celestial empire are bowing down before the emperor or helping elect a new president. A very few people govern China and we are reliably told by magazine articles that there are millions of people in inner China who do not even know whether they have king, emperor or president, and the most lamentable thing about it is that they do not care. As a result these few have declared war on Germany and granting that their word is law and that they can raise an army of a million men to fight the Teutonic powers there is the omnipotent possibility, yes probability, that there will be one revolution after another which will bring China one step nearer to a modern nation but unfit her for any active part in whipping the common enemy. The unfortunate part of this is that the far East will be more and more of a factor in final settlements which will be a dangerous proposition and the United States will have to guard against any alliances which will give the far East a foothold in the inner circle of great nations. We cannot expect much material assistance from a nation such as China.

President The Picture of Health Under Stress of War Business

Exercises Every Morning and Reads Detective Stories For Mental Relaxation

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 15.—If you have pictured President Wilson, careworn, haggard and breaking under the strain of his tremendous war problems, change the portrait. It's way wrong.

On one of his unannounced strolls

from the White House to Secretary

Baker's office in the State War &

Navy building he gave press men an opportunity for a good close-up of Woodrow Wilson in war mood.

Swinging out from Baker's room and down the tiled corridor, the President had more the manner of a man who had just concluded a pleasant chat with an old crony about nothing in particular, than of a nation's leader who had just discussed a vital world problem whose solution he must find.

Clad in snowy linen coat and trousers,

with a flat-topped, broad-brimmed straw hat set squarely on his head,

the President moved at a brisk pace toward the stairway. There was spring in his step. His smile was genial, his cheeks ruddy with the glow of health.

Realizing the vital importance of keeping himself fit, the President is exceedingly careful to play with his work.

Early every morning, long before most Washingtonians are so much as turning over for their pre-getting-up naps, the President is out in his knickerbockers and off around the golf course. Mrs. Wilson usually accompanies him. A couple of hours later they may be seen rolling into the White House grounds in one of the big cars with the golden spread eagles in a circle on the door panels.

Golf, walking and other mild forms of exercise take care of the President's physical health. For mental diversion and rest he turns from the problems of war to intricate, complex and quite thrilling detective stories.

Most of his newspaper reading is done for him by Secretary Tammany.

Thousands of papers from all over the country are carefully gone over for news of interest to the White House, and whatever is deemed sufficiently important to bring to the President's personal attention he gets in the form of pasted up clippings at the proper time.

He has cares and worries and burdens galore, has the President, but he isn't breaking down under them.

HARDEN'S PAPER REAPPEARS

Amsterdam, Aug. 15.—Maximilian

Harden's suppressed Die Zukunft reappeared today advocating the return of Alsace-Lorraine to France and Trieste to Italy if durable peace is to be achieved.

Officials believe that Harden's article might have been inspired. There is no formal agreement between the Allies with regard to accepting a peace proposal. It was informally understood when Arthur Balfour and

Rene Viviani of the British and French commissions were here that they would not accept any peace proposal that failed to include the objective of the Allies.

SWISS MISSION HERE

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning inside bath.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have hollow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of inside bathing before breakfast.

NEW JOB FOR DRUG CLERK

An Indiana drug clerk had an amusing experience recently. A young lady, evidently embarrassed, came in to the store and asked for a prescription to be filled. The accommodating clerk promptly put up the medicine and "Anything else, please?" he asked the young lady. "Yes," she replied, "give me a sponge bath." After transposing the words, the clerk complied with the request.

Frank Baker, of home run fame, is still a dangerous gent with the war club. His timely hitting has lifted the Yanks over many rough spots this season.

This Speaker's chance to win the batting championship this season is pretty lean, but the Cleveland star is putting up a great game at that.

Corns Lift Off

Doesn't hurt a bit to lift any corn or callus off with fingers.

No humbug! You truly can lift off every hard corn, soft corn or corn between the toes, as well as hardened calluses on bottom of feet without one bit of pain.

Agencies in Cincinnati discovered freezone. It is an ether compound and tiny bottles of this magic fluid can now be had at any drug store for a few cents.

Apply several drops of freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly all soreness disappears and shortly you will find the corn or callus so shriveled and loose that you lift it off with the fingers. You feel no pain while applying freezone or afterwards.

Just think! No more corns or calluses to torture you and they go without causing one twinge of pain or soreness.

Ladies! Keep a tiny bottle of freezone on the dresser and never let a corn or callus ache twice.

WHY WORRY ABOUT THE DRAFT?

From an Atlanta boy who has been on the firing line in France, and knows what he is talking about.

"You have two alternatives, either you are drafted or you are not. If not, you have nothing to worry about. If you are drafted, you have two alternatives either you are in camp or you are at the front. If you are in camp you have nothing to worry about. If you are at the front, you have two alternatives either you are held in reserve or you are sent to the firing line. If you are held in reserve you have nothing to worry about. If you are sent to the firing line, you have two alternatives; either you fight or you don't. If you don't fight you have nothing to worry about. If you do get hurt you have two alternatives either you get slightly hurt or badly hurt. If you are slightly hurt, you have nothing to worry about. If you get badly hurt you have two alternatives; either you recover or you do not. If you recover, you have nothing to worry about. If you don't recover then you are dead and can't worry, so what is the use of worrying about the draft?"

ALL CATHOLICS ASKED TO ABSTAIN FROM LIQUOR

Catholic bishops throughout the country were called upon by the closing session of the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence Union of America, at Scranton, to urge all to abstain from intoxicants during the period of the war. A resolution embodying this call, and also urging all Catholics engaged in the manufacturing and sale of intoxicants to withdraw from the business, was recommended by the president and adopted by unanimous voice. Total abstinence was also urged upon all Catholics going into the army.

The fine hitting of Larry Lajoie in the International league has attracted the attention of several major league moguls. Perhaps the former Cleveland star and present Toronto manager is getting ready to return to the big show next season.

"KERCHOO" PARDON ME MY HAY-FEVER'S ARRIVED

(By United Press)
New York, Aug. 15.—Twenty-five thousand New Yorkers suffering from hay-fever today began piling up a grand total of 76,650,000 sneezes the sneezers sneeze during hay-fever time according to figures compiled by the United States Hay Fever association.

More than a million in the United States are afflicted with hay-fever, according to the Association's figures. The more fortunate sufferers are seeking relief in the White Mountains and at various resorts throughout the country where the ragweed, said to be back of every sneeze, does not mature or has been stamped out. Asheville, N. C. has become quite popular among the wealthy sufferers from hay-fever, since the appointment last summer of a special officer whose sole duty is to combat and eradicate hay fever weeds.

SEA GULLS AS AID AGAINST SUBMARINES

(By United Press)
Washington, Aug. 15.—He was an earnest inventor and the August heat hadn't gone to his head, either, he said.

He wanted to help this country and suggest this means of killing the U-boat.

"Prevent all merchant ships from strewing garbage on the ocean. Then the sea-gulls wouldn't trail the ships. Then take some tame U. S. submarines, and throw food out from them to the gulls. Very simple. Gulls learn to associate periscope of submarine with food. Follow submarine, German U-boat pops up the periscope, while gulls circle about the food. Destroyer notes gulls, knows they mean periscope. Kills U-boat." (P. S.—The U-boats still gather their toll.)

COMMISSIONER MAGEE RESIGNS

Quits Public Service Body to Run For Mayor of Pittsburgh

William A. Magee, Public Service Commissioner, today handed his resignation to Governor Brumbaugh and it will take effect tomorrow. The resignation, which was looked for, is the formal entrance of Magee into the campaign for Mayor of Pittsburgh, a position he held prior to his appointment by Governor Brumbaugh two years ago as a member of the Public Service Commission.

The commissioner resigns now because the Public Service Commission act provides that none of the commissioners may be a candidate while holding office. This section of the law was ignored two years ago by Thomas B. Smith when he came out as a Mayoralty candidate in Philadelphia.

Magee gives up a $10,000 position to enter the fight in Pittsburgh, but he is confident of winning that. His term as a commissioner still had six years to run. As Mayor he would hold office but four years.

The Mayoralty fight in Pittsburgh, which city is conducted under a modified commission form of government, is nonpartisan. E. V. Babcock, a Penrose man, and a friend of former Secretary of the Commonwealth McAfee, is Magee's chief opponent. President of Council Kerr was brought out by Magee as a candidate for Mayor recently and the commissioner does not count on his retiring from the field. He does count, however, on Babcock and Kerr splitting the votes so that he will get through.

PENROSE ANNOUNCES SUPPORT OF WAR-TAX BILL; URGES PASSAGE

Stand in Senate Indicates No Partisan Fight Will Be Made on Measure

Washington, Aug. 13.—Senator Boies Penrose, ranking Republican member of the finance committee, in a speech on the floor of the Senate today announced his support of the war revenue bill and argued for its prompt passage. From this fact it is taken that no party lines will be drawn on this measure, which, as Senator Penrose said, is the greatest tax bill ever proposed to the American Congress.

While adhering firmly to his fidelity to the protective tariff system, Senator Penrose admitted it was the opinion of the Finance Committee that it would not be practicable to frame a tariff bill at this time, when the business world was in an abnormal condition. Instead it was found necessary to resort to direct taxes to meet the emergency, and he agreed with this policy.

Admitting the personal income tax and war profits tax are very high and may prove embarrassing to some concerns, Senator Penrose justified them as necessary in view of the tremendous profits that are being rolled up as a result of war conditions, and remarked that these taxes will go far toward giving consolation for the exorbitant prices that are being charged.

ARMY IN TRAINING EARLY IN OCTOBER

First 687,000 Drafted Men Ordered To Camps In Three Increments

Washington, Aug. 13.—The entire 687,000 men composing the first increment of the army draft forces will be under training in October. Under orders issued today the first 30 per cent of the quota of each district will begin training for cantonments September 15; the next 30 per cent, September 15; and another 20 per cent September 30. The remaining 10 per cent will be mobilized as soon after that date as possible.

The plan to assemble the new forces in three increments distributes the task of furnishing supplies and equipment through September. It will also prevent serious shortage in camp and will give the new officers from the training camps time to familiarize themselves with their duties gradually before responsibility for a great body of men falls on them.

OSCEOLA MILLS

Osceola Mills, Aug. 15.—Miss Caroline Brown and Prof. Elmer Nelson were married in the Presbyterian church last evening by the pastor Rev. S. T. Lewis. Only a few of the relatives and intimate friends of the bride being present. Mrs. Nelson is the accomplished daughter of Mrs. A. S. Brown. The groom is an instructor in a large educational institution in Detroit, Mich. The best wishes of their many friends follow them to their new home where they will reside after their wedding tour.

The O. A. B. C. of the M. E. church held a delightful social in the church on Tuesday evening.

W. Elbridge Brown, who has been at Fort Niagara in the officers' training camp for several months, has been commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the Quartermasters department. The young man is a son of Harry Brown and a graduate of the Law Department of the Pittsburgh University. Benjamin Hewitt, of Hollidaysburg, who also enlisted from this place in the above named camp was commissioned a Captain of Infantry.

The hospital will be grateful for products from the school gardens or from private individuals. If any persons having surplus vegetables or fruit will take or send it to the hospital and notify Miss Boyce, the dietitian, she has kindly expressed her willingness to care for all such donations for use of the hospital.

Some of the Amishmen will resist the order to death if necessary, one of the church officials stated. They will refuse to wear any uniforms, even although they will not have to handle weapons, and object to being sent to military camps.

School for Soldiers

Americans generally rank high. There should be little difficulty in setting a satisfactory standard in the new army. This is a subject more fully treated later in this course.

Cheerfulness
Cheerfulness is always a prominent trait of good soldiers. Here again Americans may be counted upon to make a splendid showing, even in the face of any unexpected hardships or difficulties that may be ahead of us. There are numerous episodes in American military history to justify this confidence.

In January, 1863, the Union army lay in camp at Falmouth, Va. About a month before had occurred the disastrous and bloody defeat of Fredericksburg. In the North it was the darkest hour of the war. Everywhere outside the army there was depression and fear. On January 21, the commanding general ordered the troops to break camp and move forward. At the same time, "a cold drizzling rain set in; the ground speedily became like a sea of glue; everything upon wheels sunk into the bottomless mud; it took twenty horses to start a single caisson; hundreds of them died in harness; but still the general persisted. But the rain persisted also, and it soon became a simple impossibility to go forward." After two days of effort it was necessary to have the men struggle and flounder "through the wilderness of mud back to their camp."

Picture the situation: Recent defeat with heavy losses; retreat; a cheerless midwinter camp; rain; cold; mud; discouragement at home; a long march under the most trying conditions ending in a return to the same camping ground from which the troops had started. A little grumbling might reasonably have been expected. But the men of 1863 were too good soldiers to draw long faces. The historian goes on: "The march was made in high good humor, the soldiers laughing and joking at their ill-luck with that comic brightness characteristic of Americans in difficult circumstances."

Three Qualities of Battle

Finally, there are the three battle qualities of the good soldier:

Spirit,

Tenacity,

Self-reliance.

Unless a man has these three qualities—even though he possesses all the other six of good measure—he is after all only a camp-fire soldier.

Spirit

Spirit—fighting spirit—is far from being mere hatred of the enemy or blind fury, on the one hand; nor is it mere passive obedience to orders, on the other. It means cool, self-controlled courage—the kind of courage which enables a man to shoot as straight on the battlefield as he does in target practice. However, it even goes a step beyond that point. Decisive victories cannot be won merely repulsing the enemy. "Only the offensive wins." (Infantry Drill Regulations, paragraph 511.)

Like all the other qualities of a soldier, spirit can be cultivated. An untrained army seldom possesses it. But it can be developed. You can and will develop it until it becomes as much a part of yourself as any of your easy-going civilian habits are now.

Tenacity

Spirit carries a body of soldiers forward. Tenacity is the quality that makes them "stick." The thorough soldier is never ready to stop fighting until his part of the battle is won. Tenacity was never better expressed than in the words of John Paul Jones. Standing among his dead and wounded on his sinking ship which was "leaking like a basket" he replied to his adversary's invitation to surrender, "Sir, I have not yet begun to fight." Two hours later the battle came to a sudden end when the colors of the enemy's vessel were hauled down.

Self-Reliance

Self-reliance is characteristic of the American, whether he is serving as a soldier or in some civil occupation. Much the same quality is sometimes referred to as "initiative." It is a quality needed more than ever before in present-day warfare. Major General Leonard Wood, in his introduction of the Field Service Regulations of the United States army, says:

"Officers and men of all ranks and grades are given a certain independence in the execution of the tasks to which they are assigned and are expected to show initiative in meeting the different situations as they arise. Every individual, from the highest commander to the lowest private, must always remember that inaction and neglect of opportunities will warrant more severe censure than an error in the choice of the means."

Making Yourself Stronger

The nine qualities which have just been reviewed are those which everyone of us would like to have for himself. They are the essentials of virile and successful manhood, whether in the army or out of it. Even the moral weakness and the sloth in their hearts admire these qualities. Doubtless you have developed some of them already, perhaps all of them to a greater or less extent. Many a man has discovered, when put to the test, that he possessed these qualities without having himself realized it. But under civilian conditions it is not easy to cultivate all of them.

In the army you will have your opportunity in a few months of training to strengthen these qualities in yourself. In so doing you will learn to control yourself, to take care of yourself under all conditions, to meet hardship and danger unflinchingly, to be fearless and self-reliant. At the end of these few months of training you will have gained immensely in vigor and in strength.

A SAFE TEST

For those who are in need of a remedy for kidney troubles and backache, it is a good plan to try Doan's Kidney Pills. They are strongly recommended by Clearfield people.

Mrs. Mary C. Passmore, 416 W. Front St., Clearfield, says: "I have suffered off and on for a good many years with kidney trouble. When one of these attacks has come on, my back has been lame and sore and I have had dull, bearing-down pains across my kidneys and in my bladder. My kidneys have acted frequently and I have had nervous spells. I have bought Doan's Kidney Pills at these times from Dooley & Stewart's Drug Store. They have always eased the pains through my back and head, regulated the action of my kidneys and removed nervous and dizzy spells."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Passmore had. F. O. Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

RED CROSS WORKING TO LOCATE BRITISH MISSING

(By United Press)
London, July 28.—By Mail.—Of the thousands of British families who have waited in dread anxiety for final news of relatives posted as "Missing" few have known how much effort was being made to relieve their fears. The fact that the army continues a large corps of men who spend all their time searching for missing men is not generally known.

These searchers, now an important branch of the Red Cross, are the result of a visit paid to France by Lord Robert Cecil in the early days of the war. He had gone to seek for news of a friend among comrades who had taken part in the engagement that resulted in the friend's name being listed among the missing. It occurred to him then that there were thousands of men and women at home as anxious as he, but unable to make such a personal investigation. The result was the organization of the searchers department.

The hospitals are the principal scene of the searchers work. "With a book containing the names of men missing for many months they make the rounds, following up clues and suggestions that may lead to the clearing up of the individual mysteries. The work requires tact and intelligence and, above all, patience.

FORCED TO USE PRO-GERMAN METHOD TO SAVE CABBAGE

(By United Press)
Washington, August 15.—Up to Sam has been forced to employ pro-German methods to save America's cabbage crop.

The emergency bureau of the department of agriculture today reported that tremendous rains have given us a whopper cabbage crop and that unless thousands of heads of it are at once turned into sauer-kraut it will be lost.

Despite that fact that we're at war with Germany, sauer-kraut is so popular in this country that the price has taken a big jump. It is an easy and exceedingly profitable way to handle surplus cabbage.

Last year a million dollars worth of cabbage went the sauer-kraut route.

Carpenter Rescues Painter After Thrilling Experience At Surveyor

Comrade James Sutton Dances Hornpipe When Blacksnake Encircles His Arm

Comrade James Sutton, who is engaged in painting a house which is being erected by Dr. H. H. Lewis at Surveyor had an experience Saturday last which caused his hair to stand on end for a few minutes. The house is being erected along the bank of Surveyor run, the back porch extending up against the hill, the territory to the rear being barren mountain land. The carpenters and painters are at work on the house and on account of the warm weather the doors were left open and Saturday a four foot blacksnake made its way into the house and after a tour of investigation decided to curl up for a nap on Sutton's coat which had dropped from a nail onto the floor in the kitchen.

When dinner time arrived Jim quit work and going out to the kitchen reached down to pick up the coat. The corner where the coat was lying being shaded by the kitchen door he failed to notice the unwelcome trespasser but when he grabbed the coat he immediately became aware that something was wrong. His attempt to pick up the coat awakened the snake from his snooze and as he must have been a crabbed old fellow and objected to being awakened his snakeship unwound a foot or two of his coils and quickly snapped himself around the Comrade's forearm. Instantly he sensed the difficulty and let out a yell which brought Ash Thorr on the double quick to the rescue. One bound and Comrade Sutton was out on the porch attempting to shake the snake from his arm but the more he shook the tighter the snake held on and Thorr was forced to chase the Comrade and his bracelet for more than fifty yards before he was able to separate the two which he finally accomplished by hacking the head off the reptile with a saw which he carried.

Following the separation the Comrade lost all appetite for dinner and it took him the full dinner hour to recover his wonted nerve. In telling of the happening Jim said he had many thrilling experiences in Civil war times but never a hair-raiser to equal this. He is going to have a belt made of the snake's hide.

Philipsburg Gets Big Templar Conclave

Commanderies of Six Cities Will Take Part in Fine Parade

A Conclave of Knights Templar in Central Pennsylvania of unusual importance will be held in Philipsburg on August 30th, same comprising the commanderies of Johnstown, Altoona, Huntingdon, Lewistown, Bellefonte and Philipsburg. This will be the 8th Annual Field Day of this division. Last year it was held at Huntingdon. A place is selected annually by the several commanderies, and the committee gave it to Moshannon commandery this year.

The day will be given mostly to the parade, review and inspection of the several commanderies by the grand commander, E. Sir Herbert R. Laird, of Williamsport, who will be accompanied by members of his commandery, together with the division commander, E. Sir Charles T. Derick, of Bellwood.

There will be six commanderies enter into this conclave. Each one will be accompanied by a band so that the event means much to a town fortunate enough to be selected in which it is to be held.

NEWS OF THE MOVIES

Special at the Globe Tomorrow.
In this melodrama of social conflict Miss Sweet appears as a young woman nurse wrongfully accused of murder. The hand of justice, unseen in the every day world but visible in film, stalks through the drama to the climax, finally pointing the way for the freedom of the accused and the conviction of the guilty.

In characters of this sort Miss Sweet already occupies in the memories of motion picture enthusiasts a unique place. Her remarkable performance in the dual personality in "The Secret Sin" and again in the Lasky-Belasco production "The Case of Becky" mark her as one especially suited for the portrayal of the occult.

MASTER PRODUCTION BY D. W. GRIFFITH

A million dollar cast. 11,000 people, 3,000 horses, 40 dancing girls, will be seen at the Tent theatre on Wednesday, August 22.

"Her Condoned Sin" the big Griffith screen production with an all star cast will be shown here at the Tent theatre. It is the biggest all star cast spectacular moving picture ever shown in this city. It is said there are 11,000 people in the various scenes and it looks as if no mistake had been made in the counting. Some of the stage settings are most massive and beautiful. The photography is fine and the costumes elaborate and expensive. The scenes showing the battle and attempt to break down the great wall of the city is one of the most thrilling ever produced on the screen. Many who have seen "Intolerance" claim this is even a greater picture. Many of the scenes in "Her Condoned Sin" were eliminated by the state board but the manager of the Tent theatre says the scenes have been passed by the board and can now be shown.

BASEBALL GOSSIP

A Pittsburgh rumor has the Pirates changing ownership before the opening of the 1918 season.

Among the former big leaguers who are batting .300 or better in the Pacific Coast league are Rath, Miller, Pick, Ryan, Kenworthy and Fournier.

"Gravy" Cravath of the Phillies has a rival for the home run championship. Hornsby of the Cardinals is giving the Phil slugger a chase for the honors.

Playing with a tail-end team doesn't bother Max Carey in base stealing. The Pirate garbier is the class among National league pilferers.

With the exception of pitchers, neither the White Sox nor the Red Sox has a regular .300 hitter on its roster. Pitchers Ruth and Bader of the Red Sox and Russell of the White Sox are in the .300 set.

Give the Cincinnati Reds a little added pitching strength and they would just about clean up the National league outfields. The Reds certainly have a nifty set of hitters and base stealers.

The St. Louis Browns appear to be the one team in baseball made to order for Clark Griffith's Senators. It would seem that no matter how well the Jones boys perform against the Senators the latter come through a winner.

In one respect the Dodgers and the Braves are very much on the twin order. Each outfit won a pennant and then turned around and beat it for the also division.

Baseball critics proclaim Ty Cobb to be as fast on the paths today as he was ten years ago. As the present is the 13th for Ty with the Tigers, Old Man Jinx doesn't seem to be putting in on the Georgian's wonderful work.

Shortstop Fabrique, who had a trial with Brooklyn earlier in the season, has become one of the leading lights of the American association. He is pastiming with the Toledo team.

"Death Valley" Jim Scott, the White Sox pitcher, is anxious to join the Reserve Officers' corps at Presidio, Cal. If declared eligible he will report Aug. 27.

Pitcher Al Demaree got away to a good start on his return to the Giants. The cartoonist's greatest work as a twirler was staged while he was a member of the McGraws a few years ago.

Dr. F. D. Leipold, dentist will be absent from his office until about August 23rd.

LETTERS MAY BE WRITTEN FOR SOLDIERS

Business Detail of Man Will Be Provided to Take Care of of Their Correspondence

FORM POSTCARDS TO BE USED

By George Martin
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, Aug. 15.—Every soldier in France will have a secretary to write letters to his folks if he is badly wounded or too busy writing the books to do it himself.
Adjutant General McCain has arranged the same secretariat system for the first 607,000 draft soldiers in cantonment camps in this country this fall. And for the million men, likewise.

"Our plan to enable friends and relatives of American soldiers to get prompt information as to their welfare," said General McCain today, "will require, for every million men, about 1,200 officers, enlisted men and field clerks."

World headquarters for this organization, which is already at work, will be in the State, War and Navy Building in Washington. It is known officially as "The Statistical Division."

In addition to writing letters and postcards, the duties of members of the division will include:

Gathering information concerning individuals at general, divisional, regimental and company headquarters, field and base hospitals, ports of embarkation and camps in this country where troops are mobilized and trained.

Handling inquiries concerning prisoners of war; both German prisoners in America and American prisoners in Germany.

A big training school for these Statistical secretaries has been established at the War department and is in operation now. Officers of the division are being selected from the officers training camps and will be sent to France and to places in this country as soon as trained.

"Every company of American soldiers, everywhere," said General McCain, "will be accompanied by one or more of these men regularly stationed with it and part of whose job will be to know every man in the company."

"This man will report to the regimental Statistical Division which will be especially charged with the preparation and forwarding of casualty lists and data on to wounded and seriously ill."

"Information will likewise be reported as to all civilians accredited with the army."

"The organization will finally be completed by having a regimental section with each regiment. This will be in charge of the regular adjutant, assisted by the chaplain."

General McCain wishes all Soldiers, their relatives and friends to make full use of this secretariat division. Word can be gotten home to him more expeditiously by the Statistical, through one of the division's farm postcards than by any other means except expensive cable.

The postcards are official and do not have to be delayed for censoring. If unable to write himself, his statistical field secretary will gladly do it for the Sammy.
